

Brief

August 17, 2023

The highest priority will be given to songs that most closely follow this brief:

Whatever your religious belief, the central figure of your religion (Jesus, Buddah, Mohammed, etc.) has teachings on how to bring peace on earth. If you are Atheist, you may find these teachings by some of the great philosophers like Socrates, Plato and others.

We are looking for secular (non-religious) sounding songs that convey the peace teachings of these people. We don't want to favor one religious belief over another. We want songs that teach peace and unite people in a common goal.

Any genre is welcome as long as it follows the above guidelines. They do not have to be in the genres or styles of the examples shown below, but read or listen to their lyrics to get some ideas of what we want.

We will only reply to submissions that meet the model of this brief and those that can influence world peace in some other way, such as anti-war songs, which will have a lower priority, but may be acceptable. If you have followed these guidelines and have not heard back from us within a week, please send a follow up email to ensure that we received your submission.
